Sanguinaria canadensis
bloodroot

Flower stalks emerge wrapped in a leaf. As the flower blooms, the leaf unfurls.

Type: Perennial
Family: Papaveraceae
Range: Mountains & Piedmont
Color: White
Blooms: March, April
Size: 6”-9”
Lighting: Part to Full Shade
Water: Prefers moist but is drought tolerant

We recommend masses in woodland, native plant, rock, or moss gardens.